Research Insights

Screen-1

Generic Observations

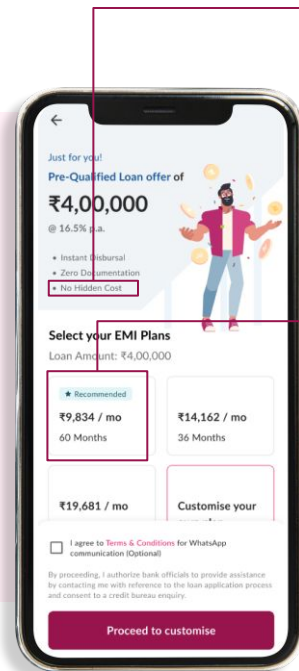

- User's compared interest rates with other banks.
- Putting the user's name will make them feel special.

Screen-1

- It was observed that most users could comprehend the landing page.
- Users also stated that they could easily view the loan amount, interest rate, and EMI due, customise the plan, and recommendations for plans.

"I would be rather interested in selecting at customise your own plan."

"I can see the interest rate directly."

- Given that there are no hidden fees, few of the users pointed out that the charges are not clearly communicated. It was noted that the user assumed there would be no additional charges.
- A few users said they would like to see the total cost they would have to pay. For example, what will the user be required to pay in total interest if he chooses a tenure of 60 months?

"I am hoping there won't any additional charges."

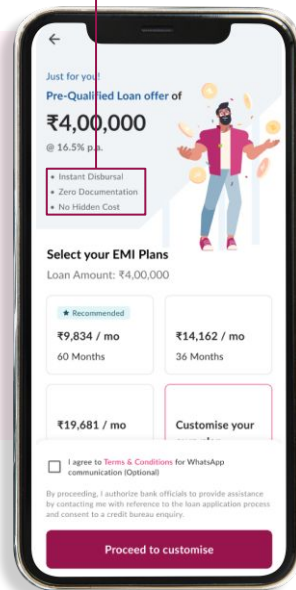

"I'm not getting how much extra I will end up paying. Other wise I have to use calculator to calculate."

Screen-1

- The majority of people were able to acknowledge the advantages displayed on the screen.

While a few had trouble understanding it because it wasn't particularly appealing to them

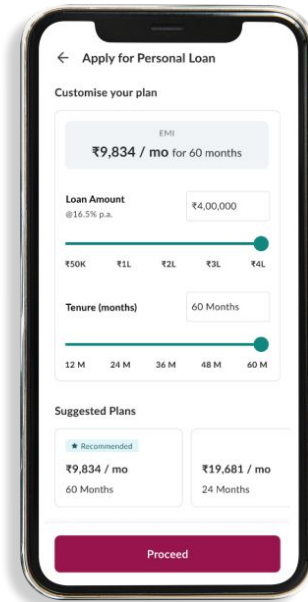

"Didn't notice i think they are these three but its not catching my eye."

- Users were seen to be at ease when viewing the customize your own plan. They expected to see their next screen, where they could play with changing loan amounts and tenure.
- A few also stated that they would explore the suggested plans rather than instantly choosing customisation.

"I can increase months or decrease in maybe how many months it should be. I can select from there."

Screen-2

Generic Observations

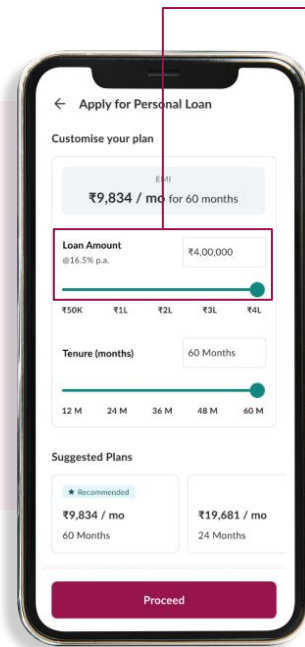

- Parameters that users spoke about while choosing a bank are as follows:
 - Rate of Interest
 - EMI
 - Speed of the process
 - Paperless processes.

Screen-2

- The majority of users said they were at ease viewing the screen and that it looked good and decent.
- The screen appeared to be staying true to user expectations. Few of the users pointed out that there is nowhere to request a lower interest rate.

"will play around with amount and tenure. It's easier to drag using slider with maybe editable option but prefer drag."

"This is what I was expecting."

- A few users also expressed their expectations by saying that they expected the EMI amount to be displayed rather than a slider.

For example, if someone can afford to pay a 12,000 EMI. He, therefore, predicted the appearance of a slider, which will then indicate how many months he will need to pay that sum to finish the 400000.

"The customer doesn't care how long he wants to pay, he only cares that how much he can afford to pay every month and the basis on which tenure becomes an output. Because I need that money and I need to know how much I can afford to pay as an EMI."

Screen-2

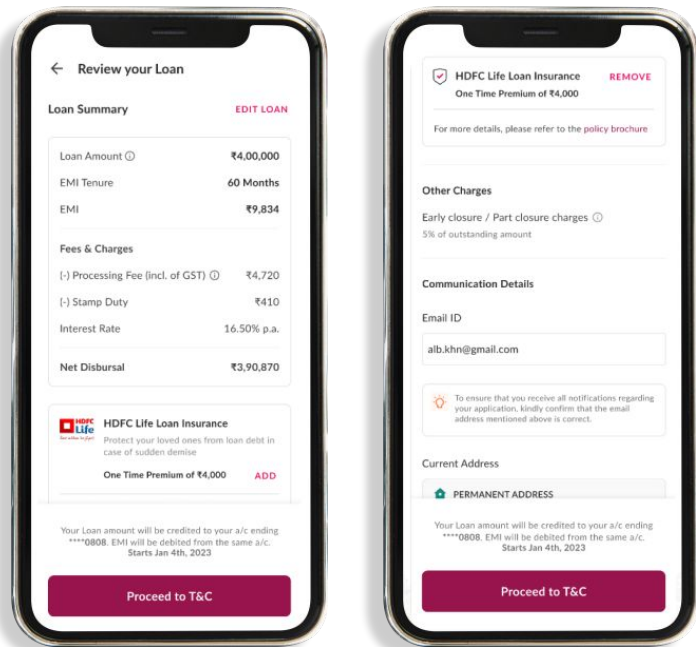

- Users could choose the tenure and amount more easily and more quickly by using the slider, which allowed them to save time.
- Also, the functionality to type manually should be added.

"both should be available I feel. And by any chance because for large numbers for example 3,50,000 is there, I will go slide to 3,00,000 and stop it there. After that 50,000 I will update it manually."

- A few of users noticed that the suggested plan had caught their attention and resembled like the landing page.

Screen-3

Generic Observations

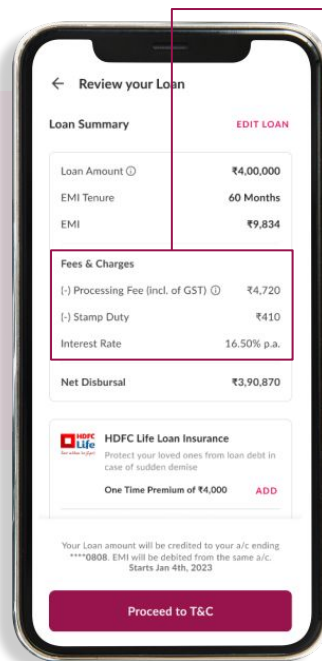

- Users mentioned that they preferred less or no pre closure cost. If the charges are applicable they expect it to be communicated clearly.
- Most of the users skipped or couldn't notice the account details.

Screen-3

- A few users had difficulty figuring if the screen could be scrolled or not. They acknowledged that the format is fine but recommended making it two screens.
- A few of the users also wanted to know what advantages they would have from the bank if they could pay off the loan amount before the due date.

"I will definitely won't go with this long screen I am not getting a clue whether this screen is scrollable or not."

"If i want to you know close the loan before 60 months what benefits will you be providing me."

- The majority of users were confused since, although it was stated before that there are no hidden costs, the screen displays processing fees and stamp duty.

They also added that it should have been stated or explained more clearly, perhaps in the terms and conditions.

"No hidden fees was told in the start but processing fees and stamp duty is added. confused as to why it is like that."

Screen-3

- HDFC loan insurance was commonly acknowledged by users. A few users expressed interest in purchasing insurance to safeguard their loved ones, while others opted out by stating that they were covered by other policies.
- Some users questioned that why Axis is promoting HDFC and allowing its consumers to choose a different brand.

"Why can't Axis provide the same. Why advertise HDFC here."

"I'm already a policyholder of from 3 different in insurance companies so I don't think I would be paying that much attention towards this particular."

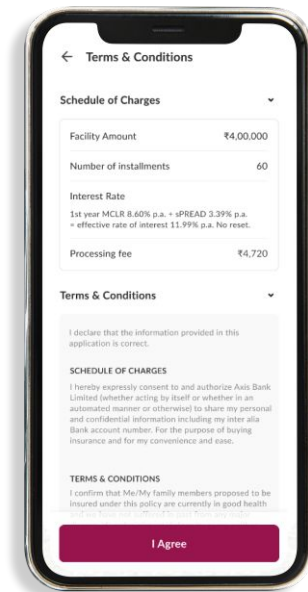

- The majority of users stated that the information should be prefilled and already be in the records if the person already has an account with Axis.
- A few users drew attention to the fact that the account number is displayed right on the screen but nowhere is it being asked.

"Loan manga paise do" Meko vapis mat dikhao. If I am Axis person they should have the info shouldnt even ask me."

"Directly you are saying that the account number, it is credited to the account number, but where are you asking the account details that I can't see?"

Screen-4

Generic Observations

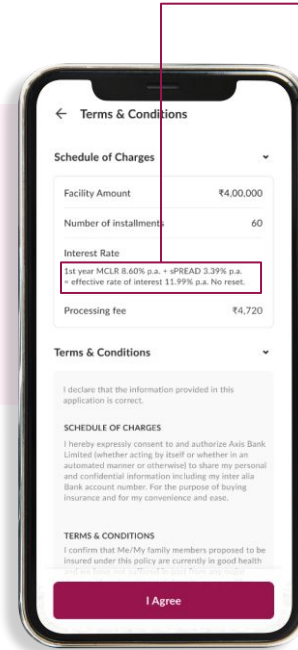

- User's felt that their doubts were getting resolved with the previous banks by taking the help of relationship managers.

Screen-4

- Few users thought the information was sufficient and felt confident moving on to the next step.
- A few users thought the information was repetitive.

"It is good Sufficient info."

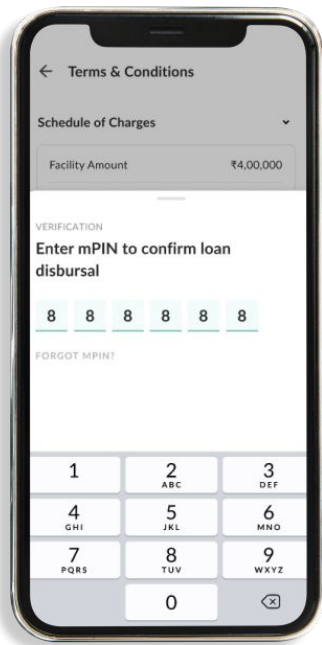

"Aree Vapis se?? I need my money now."

- It was discovered that some users had trouble understanding terms like MCLR.
- They mentioned seeking guidance at this point in order to comprehend these financial terms.

"I need someone to explain how it works maybe from an employe."

Screen-5

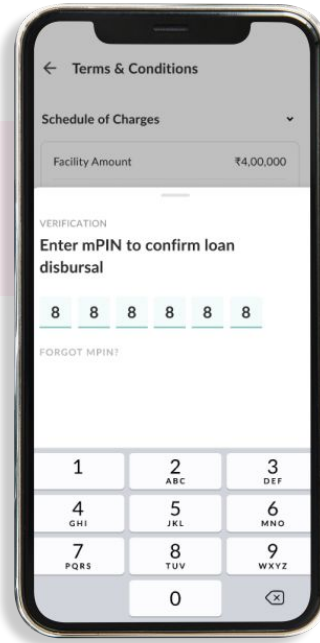

Generic Observations

- It looked like the axis is trustworthy even if the process is done online.

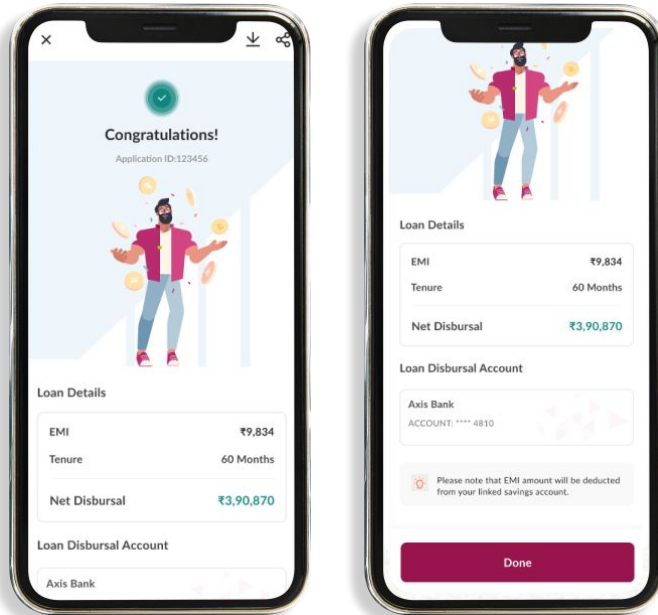

Screen-5

- Due to privacy and security concerns, the majority of users chose to have their Mpin hidden.

"The number should be hidden for privacy."

Screen-6

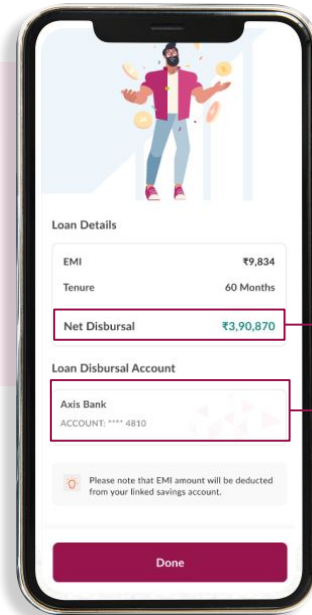

Generic Observations

- The users mentioned that they liked illustration in the screen as it caught their attention.

Screen-6

- The majority of customers experienced a positive sense of loan confirmation. They also highlighted the usefulness of the downloading feature.

"In this screen it shows the loan is confirmed and will get the amount in the account."

- A few others were startled to see the 4,00,000 drop to 3,90,000. They were seen to be unable to grasp the deductions.
- Some users also mentioned that they were unable to locate a choice for their account.

"In the whole process i couldn't select which account i need my money. this process should be done at the start only."

"But you are deducting 10,000 for your charges I think? Actually I applied for four lakh what purpose you have deducted you are not showing."

User's Recommendations

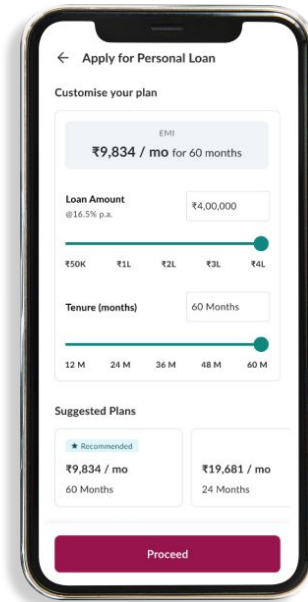

Screen-1

- There can be an option of bargaining where the users can talk to an employee/assistant and negotiate the charges.
- The advantages offered by the Axis bank should be represented in bold as currently, it's not catching the attention.
- It will be better if the colour of the CTA changes post the required sections are selected.

Screen-2

- This page should display regular rate of interest.
- The account number from which the EMI will be paid should be provided, and the name is missing from the screen.
- The user should be able to view the final EMI he will have to pay if he changes the tenure or the amount.

Screen-3

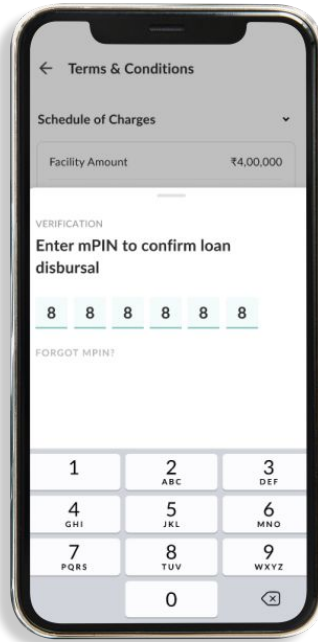

- It will make sense to scroll down further if the proceed CTA appears after all the information has been entered.
- Branch name or agent details needs to be mentioned in case of any assistance.
- It should be mentioned upfront that how the processing fees will be charged.
- Pan number and mobile number should also be asked here.

Screen-4

- There must be a way for customers to contact an assistance so that the charges can be explained clearly.

Screen-5

- An eye toggle to be placed next to pin which will give the provision to view if needed.

Screen-6

- EMI start date needs to be mentioned in the screen.
- There have been suggestions that if a person has acquired insurance, it should be stated clearly on the final screen that HDFC is in charge.
- The option to download is excellent, but it would also be great if a text message could be sent right away.
- A tracker that allows customers to monitor the progress of their loan disbursement applications should be available.
